G.D. Homan : Jean-Francois Reubell: French Revolutionary, Patriot, and Director (17471807) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Jean-Francois Reubell: French Revolutionary, Patriot, and Director (17471807):

Although numerous facets of the French Revolution have been thoroughly researched, there remain many lacunae. A historian can still find much virgin territory in the social aspects of the Revolution or he can study the events of a given locality. It is especially in the realm of biographical studies, however, that much more remains to be done. Social, economic, and other forces played an important role in the Great Revolution. But in the final analysis it were men and women, no matter how much they might have been "conditioned by the forces of history" or their environment who determined the course of history and who molded their own destiny.
