Henk de Haan, Ren van der Duim : Landscape, Leisure and Tourism before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Landscape, Leisure and Tourism:

Landscape, Leisure and Tourism: Socio-spatial studies in experiences, practices and policies explores the relationship between people and space in everyday environments, leisure environments and tourist environments. The book consists of four parts. Part One: Experiencing nature, landscape and heritage; Part Two: Leisure practices and public space; Part Three: The state of the art of tourism research; Part Four: Landscape policies, management and design.

About the AuthorThe authors of the book are all associated with the Chairgroup Sociospatial Analysis of Wageningen University in The Netherlands.
