From Palgrave Macmillan : Theories of Ethnicity: A Classical Reader before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Theories of Ethnicity: A Classical Reader:

Theories of Ethnicity makes available some of the most probing considerations of such topics as the concept of ethnicity, melting pot and pluralism, race and race problems, migration and marginality, identity, assimilation and antagonistic acculturation, intermarriage (from 'connubium' to 'miscegenation'), generations, cultural relativism, insiders and outsiders, ethnic emergence, boundary-construction and maintenance, symbolic ethnicity, and the role of power relations for ethnicity. These essays by sociologists, anthropologists, psychologists, historians, philosophers, and literary authors have set the intellectual agenda for what is now called 'ethnic studies'.

From the Back Cover Gathering the work of some of our most original thinkers, Theories of Ethnicity provides, in one convenient volume, the most probing and frequently cited considerations of such topics as the melting pot and pluralism, race and race problems, migration and marginality, assimilation and transnationalism, intermarriage, kinship and religion, boundary-construction and maintenance, and the important role of power relations for ethnicity. Werner Sollors has here brought together such intellects as Max Weber, Carl Gustav Jung, Margaret Mead, Georg Simmel, Erik Erikson, Karl Mannheim, Jean Toomer, Fredrik Barth, and Herbert Gans, and pioneering work by a host of other sociologists, anthropologists, psychologists, historians, and philosophers from around the world. Theories of Ethnicity grounds much current sociological, cultural, and political research on ethnicity in a theoretical foundation that has heretofore been lacking, thus providing an important historical base for ongoing and future work on this timely subject. For the first time, a large sampling of the most influential ethnic theory of the twentieth century is now available in a single volume.

About the Author Werner Sollors is Henry B. and Anne M. Cabot Professor of English Literature and Professor of Afro-American Studies and Chair of the History of American Civilization Program at Harvard University. He is the author and editor of numerous books, including The Multilingual Anthology of American Literature, Theories of Ethnicity: A Classical Reader, and Multilingual America: Transnationalism, Ethnicity, and the Languages of American Literature, all available from NYU Press.
