Robert Asen : Visions of Poverty: Welfare Policy and Political Imagination (Rhetoric Public Affairs) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Visions of Poverty: Welfare Policy and Political Imagination (Rhetoric Public Affairs):

To understand the welfare policy debates of the last half of the 20th century, the various images of poor people that were present must be considered. This work explores these images and the policy debates of the retrenchment era, recounting the ways in which images of the poor appeared.

About the Author Robert Asen is Professor, Communication Arts Department, and an affiliate at the Institute for Research on Poverty at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. In 2010, he received the National Communication Association Winans-Wichelns Award.
