

(Mobile library) We Decorate The Dead: A Dia de los Muertos Celebration

We Decorate The Dead: A Dia de los Muertos Celebration

Zarco Guerrero, Carmen De Novais Guerrero
ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

Download

Read Online

#5466436 in Books 2015-09-28Original language:English 8.50 x .6 x 8.50l, #File Name: 069254612X24 pages | File size: 18.Mb

Zarco Guerrero, Carmen De Novais Guerrero : We Decorate The Dead: A Dia de los Muertos Celebration before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised We Decorate The Dead: A Dia de los Muertos Celebration:

The Cultural Coalition of Arizona has its own unique way of celebrating Dia de los Muertos. Their extensive use of colorful Calaca masks and giant processional sculptures is captured in vibrant exciting photographs and thought-provoking heartfelt poetry in We Decorate The Dead, A Dia de los Muertos Celebration. A fun read for all!

About the AuthorZarco Guerrero is a sculptor, mask maker, performance artist, he has dedicated his artistic endeavors to create positive social change through the arts. The artist has exhibited his sculptures and masks in Mexico, Brazil, Japan and throughout the United States. He is the founder of Xicanindio Artes, now Xico, Inc. and the Cultural Coalition in Phoenix. He has been instrumental in the development of Chicano Arts statewide. Zarco is the Artist in Residence at ChildsplayAZ, and the creator of El Puente Festival funded by the Doris Duke Foundation. Currently he is a Master Fellow with the Southwest Folklife Alliance in Tucson, Arizona. Carmen De Novais Guerrero is a musician, arts educator and community activist, Carmen led the popular Latin band Zm Zm Zm and still performs with the Guerrero Family musicians. As a visual artist she has done photography and now jewelry which she exhibits as part of the popular Latina Artists Collective The Phoenix Fridas. As Executive Director of the Cultural Coalition she produces the annual Da de los Muertos festival and events, as well as theatrical plays dedicated to issues of cultural literacy and social justice.