Arther S. Trace : Women of the Last Millennium before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Women of the Last Millennium:

This book consists of biographies of the most famous women who lived and died during the last millennium, beginning with the 11th century. It illustrates what women have already achieved in the major fields of endeavor and what they have yet to achieve.

About the Author Arther Trace is a retired professor of English and Russian literature. He has published several books on literature, education, and literary criticism as well as dozens of articles. His book What Ivan Knows That Johnny Doesn't was a Book-of-the-Month-Club Alternate.
